Dear Friends,

All change!

So many things have changed since the last time the newsletter was headed up by a clergy letter! The Team here at RTM has several wonderful new faces! Bake Off and Strictly are back on the telly! The leaves are yellow and gold, red and brown, or branches are bare. It's colder and wetter, as we pass through the season of mists and mellow fruitfulness. Crispy and cosy, crunchy and squelchy.

The world looks very different to how it was in July: there have been new horrors and fresh joys.

Autumn is a lovely season to think about change. Less bombastic than spring, it seems to me, mellower and more pondering. It gives us an opportunity to reflect before the rush and chaos of Christmas. This is a remembering season: with All Saints and All Souls; Bonfire Night; Remembrance Day. As communities and as individuals, we reflect on what has already passed, and we look ahead. It is important to mourn what has passed away, and to see where we are now. Then, we are ready to look forward to new things.

And so, I have been thinking about Ecclesiastes 3 and to Shakespeare's autumnal Sonnet 73. Ecclesiastes chapter 3 begins with that famous reflection "To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven. A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted..." There is a sense of the rhythms of life which happen within Divine Eternity. Everything in creation has a beginning and an end. That finitude serves to make some things all the more precious to us. Shakespeare's seventy-third sonnet ends with the couplet:

This thou perceiv'st which makes thy love more strong,
To love that well which thou must leave ere long.

Autumn reminds us of our mortality and of a greater hope. It is a time of ending and of new beginning. It is at once sad and exciting. We know that to make room for fresh, new growth, we have to let go of what has already ended. For me, this is a season of seeking wisdom: what should I remember with fondness and gently let go, and what is perennial?

I hope that we can also look ahead with joy and hope as new things blossom into life in our community, and continue to walk together into the wholeness of life which God has for us.

With prayers and blessings from the clergy team,

Anne, Charlie, Joe and Wilma

This week the letter has been written by Revd Charlie Middleton

We are now sending out this e-Newsletter from an Outlook circulation list (as opposed to MailChimp) because we're hoping that it will arrive in more people's Inbox rather than going into junk! ### NEW: News from the Parish Office

The post of Property and Facilities Manager has been advertised for four weeks and we have received several applications. The interviews are taking place today. Hopefully there will be good news soon.

NEW: Upcoming meetings within RTM

Monday 13 November: St John the Divine Church Committee

Monday 27 November: Property and Finance Committee

NEW: Eaglets @ St John the Divine – a message from Emma, Children and Young People Ministry Leader

This week we explored the Savannah as we went on Safari. It was a lovely morning. Next week, we head to the Arctic!

We love that each Eaglets session allows us to share a story together and sing some silly songs. If anyone has any children's books, they would be willing to lend or donate to us for our Eaglets sessions, that would be really helpful. Please try and catch me either on a Sunday or drop them off to the Parish office. We would ask these to be secular in content, but it would be important to have Christian themes, such as kindness and sharing.

As always, these events couldn't happen without my lovely team of volunteers. If you have Tuesday mornings free and could lend a hand, please do let me know. We have lots of exciting ideas for Children's Ministry, but unfortunately a lot of them won't be able to happen if we can't get volunteers.

It's (almost) the most wonderful time of the year ... time for Las Posadas!

It's nearly time for the Travelling Crib to set off on its travels again. If you would like to be involved in hosting the crib for one evening, please email me at cypml@richmondteamministry.org or send me a text on 07712481372. Please also send me an email if you would like more details.

NEW: The Real Advent Calendar 2023

Each year, the Meaningful Chocolate company put together an Advent Calendar with the Christmas story at its centre. This Advent Calendar is around £5. It comes with a 24-page Christmas Story activity book and is filled with fairtrade chocolate. A percentage of the funds also support charity work in Africa with mums and their new babies. More information can be found here: <https://meaningfulchocolate.co.uk/pages/real-advent-calendar>

If you are interested in purchasing one, I (Emma) can place an order so you could pick them up on the first week of Advent. If you are interested in purchasing one for your children or family, please do send me an email or a text. (cypml@richmondteamministry.org or 07712481372).

WhatsApp Group for Church Families

We're setting up a WhatsApp group for all the families in each church. If you are a family and come to any of the churches and would like to be added to these chats, please send an email to cypml@richmondteamministry.org with your phone number and I will add you.

NEW: Richmond Soup Kitchen update

Many, many thanks to everyone at our churches who has responded to our plea for help with the Richmond Soup Kitchen. There was already a queue when the RSK opened up for its third season on 1 November, and despite miserable rain the volunteers were kept busy both nights offering a warm meal and a friendly ear to some of the most vulnerable people in Richmond.

So many of you have offered to bake or make soup and we are truly grateful. This service cannot run without volunteers.

It also needs funding, and it is wonderful that donations of more than £2,200 have been received in the past few weeks. This is over half of the target we set on our first attempt with JustGiving. Thank you.

If you know anyone who would like to make a donation they can be made at our JustGiving page <https://www.justgiving.com/crowdfunding/richmondsoupkitchen>.

If you would like to know more about volunteering please do get in touch at richmondsoupkitchen@gmail.com or take a look at www.richmondsoupkitchen.org. We can always use your talents!

Ways you can help:

- Baking or making soup at home
- Shopping for ingredients (RSK pays)
- Cooking or serving on-site
- Helping with fundraising
- Donations

Remembrance Sunday, I I am at Whittaker Avenue

With so much conflict in our world, it is important that we commit ourselves to working for peace and remember those who have given their lives for our peace. The annual Richmond Act of Remembrance at the War Memorial, on Whittaker Avenue near the Thames is a time for the local community, including many of the uniformed organisations, to come together. You are invited too.

All are invited as we end the liturgical year together with the Feast of Christ who is our King. There will be a joint choir that morning.

NB: no 9.30am service at St Matthias or St Mary's that day, nor I I am service at St John the Divine.

Over Coffee: Join us after the Joint Service at St Marys on 26th November when we host Cllr Julia Neden-Watts who will be with us for coffee. Julia is deputy leader of the council as well as Chair of the Environment, Sustainability, Culture and Sports Committee. This is the committee responsible for services that relate to the Borough's physical environment such as planning policy, parks and sports services. The Committee is also responsible for areas such as arts, culture, waste and recycling, registration services and consumer protection. As part of our commitment to being an EcoChurch we are keen to engage with Julia as a representative of the borough so see what ideas she might have and how we might work together to look after God's planet.

Understanding Islam

All the courses are free but donations are welcome to help cover costs. Refreshments will be available during the day but participants are asked to bring their own lunch. For further information please contact me at 07804 866349 or dianamills31@gmail.com

News from Charlie

The best laid plans of curates and chaplains...

Unfortunately, there was a complication with my accommodation in Cambridge, so I am now going on placement to King's College Cambridge 19-26th November. In the meantime, I am visiting other churches and experiencing how some of our Christian siblings worship together. So, you may see me around in the next couple of weeks!

Reflective Art Group

Are you interested in reflecting on your life in creative ways? Charlie is considering starting a monthly art and reflection group and would like to hear from anyone who would be interested in coming along. The group would offer an hour and a half, or so, of space and quiet to create art on a particular theme or prompt.

Themes might include: hope, embodiment, worship, water.

NEW: Advent 2023

- If you are considering a book for Advent, with daily reflections, may we suggest to you 'Stick with love' by Arun Arora? It is the Archbishop of York's Advent Book 2023 and comes highly recommended. There is even a chapter on someone you may know! The book is published by SPCK and can be purchased from Open Book in Richmond or other retailers.
- Revd Anne Crawford will once again prepare a virtual Advent calendar, which drops into your email inbox each morning during Advent. Each email will contain an image and a reflection. If you would like to receive the daily email, please sign up by letting Anne know: anne.crawford@richmondteamministry.org
- The Team clergy are offering you three meditations on Advent art via Zoom, on Wednesday 6, 13 and 20 December, 8pm – 8.45pm. After each meditation we will say Compline together. The zoom link will be available in two weeks' time.
- Blue Christmas, 11 December, 7pm at St John the Divine. Not everyone finds this time of year easy. It may be because of grief or loss, because life is difficult, because of challenging relationships. If you recognise yourself here, then this service is for you. Nothing will be expected, just come as you are.

Planned Giving

Last year we introduced the Parish Giving Scheme (PGS). Many thanks to those of you have joined the scheme.
